

Faith and Light in the world

Faith and Light is a source of life

People with an intellectual disability and their families often live in considerable solitude. The Faith and Light community offers its members a place of friendship and support where each person is welcomed with respect for their differences, fragilities and riches.

Faith and Light believes

That the person with an intellectual disability has a special gift to bring to our world: he or she helps us to discover who we really are.

Marie-Hélène Mathieu and Jean Vanier (2015 Templeton Prize Laureate) laid the foundations of Faith and Light in 1971.

Support the provinces so that they can ...

... cover the leaders' coordination expenses in countries experiencing crises (economic, political).

... organise holidays and enable young people with an intellectual disability to meet together and be accommodated.

... organise provincial assemblies, a time when all the leaders can share, learn and gather strength.

... allow people, who are very isolated due to the great distances between them, to get to Faith and Light meetings.

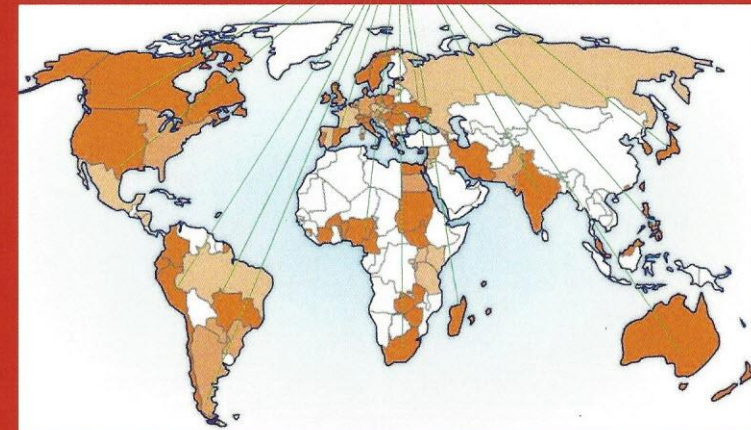

Faith and Light grew out of an ideal of generosity and sharing. It is growing strongly, particularly in the poorest regions and countries. Without your financial assistance, many projects will not be able to come to fruition.... People with an intellectual disability and their families are really counting on you in 2015 and thank you for the huge assistance that you offer them!
